

Responsible Government Again.

At the risk of fatiguing the reader we recur to the subject of Responsible Government this morning. We do so because it appears to be of supreme importance just now that no misapprehension should exist in the public mind respecting a matter so soon to be submitted for the verdict of public opinion. In his impression of Friday, our local contemporary had a tolerably sensible article upon the subject, marred somewhat, however, by that spirit of egotism and misrepresentation for which its author would seem to have acquired a notoriety of which few men would feel proud. It will be remembered that, in treating upon the same question on Thursday, we shrank from the hideous caricature presented by our contemporary. While admitting that the system, to a greater or less extent, implied party government, we ventured to express a hope that, in the first instance at least, the people of British Columbia, instead of arranging themselves in two hostile parties in an unprincipled and unseemly scramble for the 'loaves and fishes' of office, might rather seek to rise above mere party lines, and, as far as possible, constitute one great party, comprising the whole body of the people, in seeking the common good of all. For expressing this hope we have been held up as an opponent of Responsible Government, and the public are told that 'Apparently the only real out-and-out advocate of Responsible Government in this country is the Standard.' Heaven save the cause if this be true! 'Responsible Government,' says he, 'is Party Government, pure and simple,' and he continues, 'any paper that argues against thorough Party Government opposes the only form of government under the British Crown that enables the people to manage their own affairs.' Now, it will have been observed that we did not 'argue against Party Government,' but only expressed the hope that more party lines might not be rigidly drawn at first. But even beyond this, our contemporary is scarcely justified in the sweeping assertions he has made. As a matter of fact the reader need only look to Canada in order to discover in actual and most successful existence the identical political condition we expressed a hope to see here. In that country party feeling ran so high as to render Party Government well nigh impossible, when, in June 1864, overtures were made by the leaders of the Reform Party to Sir John A. Macdonald, with a view to a fusion of parties for the purpose of carrying out the grand scheme of Confederation. The result was the formation of a coalition government, the same government, with the exception of a few trifling changes in its personnel, which was so successful in carrying out that scheme—the same government which administered, so ably and so well, the affairs of the Dominion to-day! True, the cry has recently been heard from Ontario for a return to Party Government; but that cry was a feeble one, and the great body of the people are well content with the continuance of the coalition principle. In the face of these facts, of which he can hardly be presumed to be ignorant, what must be thought of the position taken by our contemporary? It is a matter of history that the affairs of Canada have been administered, and most successfully administered, during these six years under the coalition system, which means the elimination of the party principle. Yet we scarcely think our contemporary will tell us that Responsible Government has not prevailed there during that period. In no country, in all the Colonial Empire, has the principle of Responsible Government been more fully recognised and more fairly and successfully worked out than in Canada; and of no period in its history is this more true than of that very period during which the principle of party government has, to speak figuratively, been held in chains as an element of obstruction and strife. To assert that Responsible Government and Party Government are so identical as that the former cannot exist without the latter is, therefore, to betray a degree of ignorance upon the subject or a loquaciousness in dealing with facts which we certainly were not prepared to find exhibited by our contemporary. Having with, we trust, sufficient clearness, shown that Responsible Government can be carried on, and that most successfully, without the practical recognition of party, let us consider for a little whether or not it is the interest of British Columbia to aim, in the first instance, at least, at working out the system as free from party as possible. One of the chief and, we must admit, one of the most cogent objections to the immediate introduction of Responsible Government in this Colony is paucity of population. And surely this consideration will constitute a most weighty argument against making such a system, 'pure and simple, party government.' If a country with a population of four millions found a fusion of parties necessary in order to carry out certain great measures, how much more necessary will it be that, in a country with a population of ten thousand, the people should, for the time, seek to rise above mere party lines, and unite in order to form a strong people's government, representing the views and possessing the confidence of all, which may successfully carry out those great measures of internal improvement and reform so essential to Colonial prosperity and general well-being. There is yet another phase of this subject to which we would invite a moment's thought. In Canada there were and are large and well-defined political parties, holding distinct and recognized political creeds; and thus a condition existed which not only rendered Party Government possible, but which seemed to promise its success. But does such a condition present itself here? Where are our political creeds and distinctive parties, with which to carry on 'party government, pure and simple'? Why, it was no longer ago than Tuesday that our contemporary, with that play upon the English language peculiar to him, stated that 'No sooner was union secured, or Confederation insured, than parties previously acting together, on one side or the other, virtually dissolved into a mass, with one common opinion.' Now, if one might venture to attach any meaning at all to the words employed, they would appear to indicate a political condition as existing in the Colony singularly favorable to the working out of Responsible Government free from the party principle which our contemporary seems so strangely and significantly solicitous to have at once introduced. If, as he asserts, the people are 'dissolved into a mass,' why, in the name of reason and common sense, seek to break up that 'mass' into antagonistic fragments? If they have 'one common opinion,' why divide that opinion? If, in such a complete union and fusion of parties there should be strength and harmony, why seek weakness and discord in an unnatural and unnecessary division? But, supposing the people were unhappily divided up into political parties, how are these parties to be supplied with distinctive creeds, seeing there is only 'one common opinion'? Shall we be told that 'office and patronage, or the 'loaves and fishes,' are to constitute the basis and creed of political parties? Indeed we have already been told this. But, if such is really to be the case—if the mere handful of people are, as the immediate and inevitable result of the adoption of Responsible Government, to be divided into two hostile armies, and drawn up in battle array to fight, not for principle but for pelf, for the spoils of office and the sweets of power, we repeat that the best portion of the community may hesitate to accept so doubtful a boon. But, let not the people be deceived. There is not the slightest necessity for such a wretched, demoralizing, repulsive condition of things. If the people will only prove faithful to themselves, and carefully exclude mere political seismatics and impossibilities from the Legislature, there is no reason in the world why Responsible Government, in its true spirit and integrity, may not be successfully carried on in this Colony for years to come, without any such divisions and unseemly scrambling for 'office and patronage' as our contemporary appears so eager to introduce. There are in reality no political parties in the Colony. But even if there were, it would become the duty of all to seek to promote such a fusion as might enable a strong coalition government to administer the affairs of the country in the common interest of all, without respect to party, rather than to have a small and struggling population rent up into miserable factions unworthy of the name of party.

Closing the Doors.

It will be seen by reference to another column that the doors of the only Public or Government School in Victoria have been slammed to by the indignant Teachers and that the young idea is now left to shoot at random on the public streets! To those who have given little or no heed to the subject this step may possibly appear to be an extreme one. Those who have taken sufficient interest in education to inform themselves as to facts will, however, concur with us in the opinion that the Teachers have arrived at that point beyond which forbearance ceases to be a virtue. Indeed, it is our honest opinion that they had reached that point long ago—that less long-suffering and quiet submission to injury and injustice would have been better both for them and the public. The subject of the shameful treatment these Teachers have received has so very recently been the matter of remark in these columns that it will not be necessary to go over the ground afresh. It may be as well to state, however, in correction of a false impression which has gone abroad, that during the last eighteen months the Teachers have only received $150 apiece from the Board; and during nine months they have not received a single dollar of Government money. It may be right to mention that the Government money is withheld on account of the delinquencies of the Board—the principle followed by the Government being that the public grant is only to be paid on condition of the people's quota being made good. The course now adopted by the teachers is probably the only one that will bring matters to a practical issue, for it would seem as though the people were content good-naturedly to accept the services of the teachers as long as given, concerning themselves little as to whether those services were unrequited or not. What is still worse, the Board appears to have given itself equally little concern. Owing to the delinquencies of the Board the whole of last year's tax was lost, and the greater part of the present year's tax still remains uncollected.

McMahon's Zouaves:

How THEY WERE DESTROYED AT THE BATTLE OF HAGUENAU.

Special Dispatch to New York Herald.
LONDON, August 16.—The following letter from General Procher, commanding the Zouaves of Marshal McMahon's corps, tells the story of the destruction of those fine soldiers:
SAVERNE, August 8.—Let us thank God, who has preserved me from the most terrible of dangers it is a soldier's fate to encounter. It is a miracle that I am still alive without a scratch, and in perfect health; but my heart is broken, and I am overwhelmed with grief at the loss of my poor officers, and my poor soldiers. I dare not tell you how many I have lost. It would grieve you too much.
LATER.—I shall know the names of those you knew and loved, but will never see again. The gallant fellows fought like lions and heroes. Out of 65 officers 47 were killed wounded and missing. At 7 in the morning they were full of life and ardor: now all are killed. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon my unfortunate Lieutenant Colonel Des Hartes, was wounded by my side. A bullet entered his abdomen, which was discharged but a few yards distant. He was able to squeeze my hand as he was carried off the field, but he probably died before this in a Prussian ambulance. Two Chiefs de Bataillon were shot dead, and the third is either dead or a prisoner. St. Saneux was wounded badly, and but very little hope is entertained for his recovery. I had him taken from the field in an ambulance. A bullet went through his chest. He behaved splendidly. Pierron was shot stone dead. I have but five captains here, out of thirty. The others are in Heaven. All my Adjutants and most of all my Sergeants-Major shared the same fate as the pioneers—better or more gallant men never breathed—but five are left. Two who were left with the baggage were either sabred or taken prisoners. My horses were also captured. My poor black charger was killed under General Saneux, to whom I lent him, his horse having been killed early in the action. Out of all I had, all that remains is the clothes I wear, and 65 francs in my pocket. My baggage, with that of the Marshal, has been taken. I don't care for that. I cannot help crying, inwardly, when I think of all those I have lost. We fought like lions—35,000 against 100,000. The enemy surrounded us on all sides. General Colom was killed; Robert De Vogue was killed; Alfred De Gramont, the Duke's brother, lost an arm. The other corps suffered almost as much as our own. McMahon behaved splendidly, and did all that any man could do, but he had not men enough. He was unable to cope with 100,000 men, with three times more artillery than he had. Nevertheless we inflicted heavy losses on the enemy, and that doubtless was the reason we were not more vigorously pursued. Had such been the case, the disaster would have been fearful. It is bad enough as it is. The battle began at half-past 7 o'clock. After night there was a pouring rain, in which we had to stand, without tents, or fire, or lie down in mud. During the previous day we had marched 70 kilometres from the battle-field to Saverne—the last 36 kilometres were got over during the night, pell mell, and without stopping or sleeping. War is a fearful scourge, but we are doomed to be forced into action. We have but 500 or 600 Zouaves, without knapsacks, tents, clothes, or food; but we have arms and do not complain. We are without officers and non-commissioned officers, and cannot be sent into action. It is probable we will be sent to Strasbourg to re-form. Our regimental chests, from all accounts, have been taken.

BAVARIAN FEELING.—A correspondent writes from Munich:—We have just had the last performance of the Ammergau mystery play. The Christus has had to join the artillery. He had an interview with the King to beg to be allowed to retain his long hair, so that he might be able to resume his part. The request was granted. None were left to gather in the harvest but old men, women, and children. As you may believe, the excitement here is tremendous they say in England the excitement is as great, and that almost all the sympathy is on the right side. Here the Ultramontane party have done their best to preach down siding with the Prussians but with very little effect on the people. All the officers we know rejoice in having Prussian generals. The separations are carried on with great promptitude and secrecy. I heard yesterday that officers who left here for Augsburg have written to say that on arriving their destination was changed not even saying whether they were sent. Most of the troops leave at night at very short notice. One hears incessant trains all night long. It is heart-breaking to go among those left behind, and to feel those we love best are gone into the thick of the war. One wakes in the morning feeling as if the whole thing were a hideous dream.—Pall Mall Gazette.

WE, THE TEACHERS OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS for Victoria City and District, finding it impossible to continue teaching, in consequence of non-payment of the salaries due to us for our services, are reluctantly obliged to close the School till such time as proper provision shall be made for punctual payment of our salaries.

Eighteen months have elapsed since the new School Ordinance became law, during which time we have only received from all sources six months' pay. We deem this explanation necessary under the circumstances; and believe that a discriminating public will not censure us for taking a step which is unavoidable.

CARIBOO NEWS SUMMARY.—The Sentinel mentions the Wilson Co. as having cleared up 105 ozs for the week; the Cariboo 154 ozs, the Forest Rose 68ozs, the Downie 30 ozs, and many other claims as paying handsomely. Mining is being prosecuted with success on McCallum, Stout and Conklin Gulches and Valley Mountain, Lowhee, Willow, Mosquito and Grouse Creeks. New diggings on Mohawk Gulch are about to be tested. The Lightning Co. on Lightning Creek washed up over 8000z for the week. The Eleven of England have got their new pump at work and have finished puddling. Mrs. Allan, of the Hotel de Fife, Lightning Creek, drove a horse and buggy over a hillside between Barkerville and Richfield, falling 40 feet, receiving a broken leg and severe contusions. Mrs. Allan is the 'Scotch Jeanie' who figures in Viscount Milton's sketches of British Columbia. She is known and respected in Cariboo for many acts of kindness and generosity towards the unfortunate, and the accident evoked a widespread sympathy. The Sentinel indicates the Government for the accident, in that it had neglected to render the road safe, though reportedly asked to do so. Hon G. A. Walker, Hon R. W. Carrall, J. S. Thompson, T. Jeffree (of Moquitto Creek), J. Wark, C. Booth, T. Elwyn and H. Havelock are mentioned in connection with the Cariboo representation.

NEW WESTMINSTER.—There are 20 prisoners in Goal; 12 at hard labor, 2 without, 2 under sentence of death, 4 insane. George Turner was elected for Ward No. 1, and Obrie Lee for Ward No. 7, in the Municipal Council. The Guardian says a very rich silver lode has been discovered not a hundred miles from the town, and within 12 miles of the river, a sample from which assayed 713 oz. 13 pwt. and 8 grs. to the ton. The Hyack Fire Company are making arrangements for holding their annual picnic. Extensive improvements are being made at Hastings Mills, Barnard Inlet.

N.W. COAST.—From a white man who arrived in a canoe yesterday we learn that thirteen men left Skeena River on the 19th of August bound for new diggings on a river in Alaska, a short distance above Stekin. Some miners from Alaska last summer discovered paying diggings, and the Captain of the U.S. steamer Newburn gave the thirteen men a free passage from Tongue to Stekin. Among the thirteen were Moss of Bella Bella and Lamont the Peace River expressman. The Indians are peaceably disposed. Our informant saw a large number of canoes laden with whisky were bound up the coast.

FROM NEW WESTMINSTER.—The steamer Enterprise, Capt. Swanson, arrived last evening, bringing 25 passengers, 410 barrels of fish, and 187 packages of furs—the latter from New Caledonia for the Hudson Bay Company—and Barnard's Cariboo Express. Among the passengers were Messrs G. Findlay, Page, Wilson, McKinnlay, Dr. Powell, Turner, O. Hankin, Sheriff Carson and prisoner, and Mrs. Nelson. The Enterprise was detained beyond her usual time to take in the salmon.

UPON THE BRINK.—On Wednesday a part of the cribbing of the wagonroad above Kanaka Bar gave way beneath the weight of Chrysler's oxteam and loaded wagon and the whole concern was only saved from destruction by one of the chains catching upon a stump, which supported oxen and wagon until assistance could be had. Four or five hundred dollars worth of the goods were lost. The place where the accident occurred is 300 feet above the river, straight up and down!

ELEGANT SILVER SERVICE.—Among a number of articles to be offered by Mr. Franklin on Tuesday next is the elegant silver service presented by the Government of British Columbia to Hon Charles Brew, as a mark of appreciation of his services as leader of the expedition against the Chillicothe Indians in 1864. The value of the service is about $1250.

AGRICULTURAL AND HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.—At a meeting of the Site Committee yesterday, the selection of the Caledonian lot as a place for holding the Show was confirmed. This decision of the Committee is final, and a Committee of Arrangements will be appointed at the last meeting prior to the Show, to be held at New Dominion Hall to-morrow.

MONSTROUS.—The Enterprise brought down a sturgeon weighing 784 pounds and measuring 11 1/2 feet in length—said to be the largest yet caught in the Fraser. It was captured opposite New Westminster yesterday morning in a net. Frank Richards is the consignee of his fish, and proposes to turn his Alambra Hall into an aquarium for the accommodation of the monster.

A SEVERE CASTIGATION.—Our Cariboo contemporary animadverts with very great severity upon the remissness of the Government in making such essential improvements as, for instance, that the absence of which caused the serious accident in the canyon between Barkerville and Richfield. We fear the Government deserves it all.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE.—We hear that Mr. Wm. H. Kay, an influential resident of Lillooet District, has determined to offer himself as a candidate for the representation of that constituency in the Legislative Council. Mr. Kay is a gentleman of scholarly attainments and no mean abilities, and we have no doubt he would make an excellent member.

CRICKET MATCH.—The Match played yesterday at Beacon Hill by the Boxers and Victoria Juniors was won by the former, who scored 119 in one inning. The Victoria Juniors made but 51 in both innings, while Wheeler, one of the Boxers, alone made 50. The boys were badly beaten.

IMMIGRATION SCHEME.—Mr. Trutch, while in London, arranged a practicable scheme of immigration which will be laid before the next Council.

CAUGHT.—Sheriff Carson, of Stellacoom, W. T., last evening came down with the extradited prisoner Young—an escaped convict from Stellacoom. He was sentenced some two years ago to ten years' imprisonment for killing another man. When captured he was at work at one of the mills on Burrard Inlet.

PRACH RIVER.—It is reported that good diggings have at last been struck on Vitale Creek. The pay is two ounces to the hand. A party of twelve men are on their way down by trail and canoe. Mr. Ogden of the H. B. Company was expected at Quenneleum when the express passed.

STAGE UPSET.—The last express stage from Cariboo upset on the wagon road near Oregon Jack's, Thompson River, and several of the passengers were injured. The most serious injury was sustained by Mr. McKenzie, of the H. B. Co's fort at Kemloops, who had a rib broken. A wheel ran off and caused the accident.

JUDICIAL.—In yesterday's Gazette it was announced that a Court of Assize and General Delivery will be held at the Court House, Victoria, before Chief Justice Begbie and the Hon Justice Giesbrecht, on Monday the 12th day of October proximo.

Mrs. DIONY PALMER will resume her Dancing Classes Sept 13th, 1870. Juvenile Class on Tuesdays and Fridays at half-past 3 o'clock p.m. Adult Class on Tuesday and Friday evenings at 8 o'clock. Academy—Fort street.

CARIBOO MINING PROSPECTS.—A gentleman from Cariboo who arrived last evening gives a very favorable account of the prospects of the mines there. The yield is now above the average, and Lightning Creek is considered the best Creek yet discovered in the Colony.

ARRIVAL.—The French bark Emi's de Girardin, 480 tons, arrived in the outer harbor yesterday morning to load with lumber at Moody, Dietz & Nelson's mills for Iquique, Peru.

THE ELECTION.—We believe we are correct in stating that the writ for the election will not be issued until after the return of Mr. Trutch from England. Mr. Trutch is expected late in October.

THE STEAMERS.—The Idaho, detained by fog off Columbia River, only arrived last evening at Portland; and the sailing of the California from Portland, advertised for last evening, has been postponed until Tuesday.

AUCTION TO-MORROW.—The only auction on the cards for to-morrow is an extensive sale of groceries and other goods by Messrs Millard & Beedy.

THE GOVERNOR'S MOVEMENTS.—It is understood that His Excellency the Governor will take a run up as far as Beston Bar, next week.

NEXT SALE.—Messrs R. F. Pickett & Co. announce their next sale of desirable goods for Thursday, 15th inst.

POLICE COURT.—Yesterday the record was a clean sheet.

The schooner Ocean Pearl will probably sail hence for Honolulu with a cargo.

APPOINTMENT.—Mr. O. Allard has been gazetted postmaster at Langley.

Riot in Paris.

PARIS, Aug 16.—About 4 o'clock some 40 individuals armed with revolvers and poniards, concealed, having marched down Rue d'Aubervilliers, suddenly drew up in front of No 156 Boulevard de la Villette and summoned the man on duty to surrender his post. The soldier, seeing them about to dash in at the open door, placed himself across it. One of the group drew a revolver and shot him dead. A sergeant de ville, hearing the report rushed up to ascertain the cause and received a bullet in the breast and fell dead. The occupants of the post rushed to the window, but the assailants were drawn up in double line and sent a volley in en masse. They then rushed into the house and seized four Chassepots and two cartridge-boxes. Having accomplished this murderous feat the band made a precipitate retreat, shouting: 'Treason! Vive la Republique!' A Lieutenant named Cottres was inside when the group came up. As soon as he saw the men he demanded their business. The reply was a shot, and 'Vive la Republique!' The Lieutenant then ordered his men to go inside and shut the door and load the guns seeking to gain time. He asked the groups the object of their demonstration. The leader, a small man very well dressed, replied: 'We are going to proclaim the Republic. Give us your guns and come with us to the Corps Legislatif.' 'Come,' said the Lieutenant, still in the house, to gain time, 'Are we soldiers? You know we do not fire upon the people, but it is not our duty to march off with you. If you want to proclaim a Republic just go on a little further.' The leader of the band answered, 'We know a trick worth two of that. Hand us over your guns.' 'Never,' exclaimed the Lieutenant. 'Then we shall take them,' was the reply. At this moment the whole gang drew out their revolvers and discharged them. A sentinel fell dead. A corporal named Babud, received three wounds—two bullets and a stab. The Lieutenant was not injured. The report of firearms brought upon the people from their houses, who rushed upon the band. These wretches then began to use their revolvers right and left and to stab everyone within reach. The police now appeared, sword in hand and endeavored to surround the madmen. One of them received a bullet and having fallen was trampled to death by the band. A girl six years old was killed in her mother's arms.

The fight now became general. Men were falling right and left, others running away, while some went in pursuit. The Commissary of Police of the Rue Tanguier now exclaimed: 'Who will follow me? Come on, citizens!' Upon this he rushed upon the rioters who, having no more ammunition and seeing themselves likely to be overpowered, immediately fled, followed by the people exclaiming 'They are Prussians! kill them! kill them!' Besides the two men killed three police agents received several wounds. It is feared many inhabitants in the neighborhood were injured. The leader of the band was almost immediately apprehended. A tall, well dressed man was also arrested. He called himself an Englishman but spoke with power and with a strong German accent. He had numbers of sovereigns and gold Frederick pieces. Upwards of fifty arrests have been made, including the originator of the plot. The Emperor sent word of condolence in the evening to the mother of the child killed.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY BRITISH COLONIST.
LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.
Europe.
PARIS, Sept 9.—Jules Favre has declined the service of the Orleans Princes and begged them to quit the city.
A dispatch to la Liberte from Laon says the troops are falling back on Paris under the orders of Gen. Mury, and the Urbans have been on the heels of the army since the retreat commenced.
BERLIN, Sept 9.—Authority is confident that Russia will withdraw her proposition for a conference, owing to the persistence of Prussia.
It is reported that owing to the creation of the French Republic Austria has thoughts of arming again.
CARLSRUHE, Sept 9.—A flag of truce conveying papers for the surrender of Strasbourg was sent by General Ulric, in which he proposed a cessation of hostilities; the French garrison of 20,000 men to leave the citadel, which shall, however, be retained in the hands of the French, who are pledged, moreover, to fire no guns and take no further part in the Prussian war. The remainder of the garrison to be released; officers to retain sidearms, and the Prussians to hold possession of the city. The terms were immediately rejected and an unconditional surrender of the city and fortress demanded: the Governor to become a prisoner of war and to be paroled. Permission for all civilians to leave the city was refused except for women and children.
LONDON, Sept 9.—The Prussian cavalry are within ten miles of Paris fortifications. The main body of the army is within thirty miles of the city.
PARIS, Sept 9.—There is a report that Jules Favre has gone to King William's headquarters, and the report seems confirmed by the fact that he did not appear yesterday at the Office of Foreign Affairs.

California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 9.—The Pioneer Excursion to Mare Island proved a splendid success in every particular. About 2000 persons went on the steamer Capital from this city. The boat touched at Alcatraz, from the batteries of which a salute was fired in honor of Gen. Sherman. On the trip to Vallejo nearly the entire 2000 persons on board were introduced to Generals Sherman and Schofield and staffs, Admiral Tupper, Staff-Generals Cobb and Allan, Staff-Officers, of the regular army and National Guard were on board. The band of the pupils of the Industrial School played the Marseillaise and Marching through Georgia in a superb style. At Vallejo a salute of 21 guns was fired, and Vallejo and Sacramento Pioneers and others to the number of 500 came on board. The literary exercises were held in the hall on Mare Island. After a prayer by the Rev. Albert Williams, an oration was delivered by L. B. Trickett and a speech by Gen. Sherman. The literary exercises over, dancing commenced and continued till about 4 p.m., when the excursionists returned on board and after the Vallejo and Benicia Delegations were landed at Vallejo, the steamer was headed for home and reached the city at 7 p.m.

Not an unpleasant incident occurred. Gen. Sherman was escorted to the hotel and thence to Martin's where a sumptuous dinner in progress of demolition. Everybody considered it the best excursion of the kind that has happened lately.

Oregon.

PORTLAND, Sept 18.—The steamer Idaho, which sailed from San Francisco on Monday, was telegraphed at 6 o'clock. Her destination was probably due to a dense fog at the mouth of the Columbia.
The sailing of the California for Victoria and the Sound is postponed to Tuesday.
An accident occurred to the afternoon train on the Oregon and California Railroad. Several persons were slightly injured. The baggage car was badly smashed and the passenger car thrown off the track. The accident occurred between Oregon City and Salem.
Over $50,000 of the $100,000 appropriated has already been disbursed on the Custom House building here.

Scenes in Paris.

Correspondence of the New York Tribune
A band of five young men, of whom the oldest does not appear, judging from the tremendous head of hair I look down upon, to be more than 22 years old, go swaggering along, arms locked and taking up the street from curb to curb. The extreme man at the right flourishes a half empty wine bottle, and which, between the stanzas, they all drink in turn; the extreme man at the left holds a baby! The thing is his, probably, if he likes to think so, and 'tis sound asleep, dressed very nicely in a white frock with blue ribbons, the bottle, the left-hand man flourishes the baby, and probably by the end of their journey they will get the two inextricably mixed, and perhaps throw the baby down, mistaking it for the empty bottle. Behind the row of men, at a respectable distance, enough to draw tears of blood from Mrs. E. C. Stanton, come the women who belong to these meier-do-wells. They are decently dressed, and walk arm-in-arm, singing the air to the young fellows, bass. No doubt the baby belongs to one of them, but you wouldn't think so, and the two bands disappear as they came. Perhaps the next arrival, with more Marseillaise, will be an open voiture with soldiers lolling on the cushions, cracking the driver's whip, flourishing wine bottles, and yelling at the passers-by. I met a cab this morning, the driver of which was sound asleep, while a roaring Jehu of a soldier boy was driving the distracted horse, and out of each window lolled another soldier singing the Marseillaise, and thrashing the pavement in tune with a long green tree-branch. And everybody seemed to think it was just the thing to do and took no particular notice. Just now there went by another band of men, this time older, with another row of women behind, and two of the men led a little two-year old baby by the hands, who walked along to the tune of the old revolution with as steady a step as his elders. And so they keep going all day, and not in my street alone, but in all the streets, and it is pleasant to see how little real disturbance they make for all their noise. I observe that the ouverts at work on the new building opposite seldom leave their work to look, unless the band is larger than usual, and even then they seem indifferent to it. Here comes a queer set. One fellow, far gone, is singing, Allons enfants to his bottle, which he every now and then embraces affectionately; another has his large round hat balanced on his head, where it will stay till his companions take it into their heads to knock it off, and so they go.

Prince Arthur Home Again.

The New York World says: Prince Arthur's return home does not seem to have excited the slightest interest in England and the press appear to have deemed it sufficient to record the bare fact. There is a pleasant passage of Thackeray's in which he contrasts the difference between the arrival of a local magnate at the railway station contiguous to his country seat, when the station master—duly remembered by a brace of pheasants now and again in the sporting season—greets him, and in hand, while an admiring crowd watches the great man getting into his carriage—and the utter indifference displayed when the same person reaches the metropolitan terminus of the line. Perhaps a thought of the same kind may have crossed H. R. H. in London. 'I know which I like best,' says the great novelist and no doubt the Prince also has his choice in the matter. The late Lord H—, a great Yorkshire peer, used to assert that it did a swell a world of good to go to London. Here, he would say, it is all 'My lord' and 'Your lordship please' and everyone I meet makes me a bow and so forth, but as soon as I'm in Oxford street the butcher's boy brushes against me and wants to know why the d— I don't get out of the way and the cabman cries out—'Now you old fool, where are you going to?' if I'm slow in getting over a crossing, London is a mighty leveler and an admirable place for the abatement and dissolving of pompous gentlemen who imagine themselves to be 'some one in particular.'

A correspondent of La Patrie, writing from Antwerp gives his opinion of the value of that great stronghold of national independence. First noticing the disposition of the inhabitants, which he describes as being very friendly and sympathetic toward France, which is ever remembered as the chief agent in the creation of the Belgian Kingdom, the correspondent adverts to the fortifications which have been lately completed. Of the immense northern citadel, constructed since 1859, and intended to receive an army of 40,000 men, he simply says it is now uninhabitable. The action of the tide of the Scheldt upon the sandy soil upon which the citadel is formed is ruinous to the works, and even when a tolerable dry position is for a time obtained it is only by the constant action of pumping machines. The northern citadel has therefore, says the correspondent, been judged to be useless and Antwerp is available from the Polders. The fact is so far recognized that efforts are now directed to the arming of the southern citadel, created by the Duke of Alba in 1578, and which is now teeming with troops. The whole of the works surrounding Antwerp are ill constructed and, notwithstanding their apparent excellent workmanship, the writer has no doubt that in less than ten years' time they will all crumble away, and if before then they should be exposed to the fire of modern artillery they would be immediately destroyed.

Miscellaneous.

French Medicines.

GRIMAULT & CO.

PREPARED BY
Chemists to H. I. H. Prince Napoleon

PARIS.

These different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries, founded on the principles of Chemistry and therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names audaciously indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from these numerous medicines advertised in the public press as able to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist in France, with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine, and have been proved efficacious, either in the Hospital, or in the practice of the first medical men, are authorized by the Government. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellence of Messrs. GRIMAULT & Co's medicines.

Women's and Children's Diseases.

Grimault's Syrup of Iodized Horse Radish.

Patronized for more than twenty years by the Paris Physicians. Cures lymphaticism, rachitism, scrofula, congestion of the glands of the neck, pale skin, loss of the flesh, loss of appetite, weakness of constitution, the various eruptions on the face, boils, pimples, itchings,—it is the best remedy against the first stage of consumption, and is the most powerful depurative known.

DOCTOR LERAS'
(Doctor of Medicine.)

SOLUBLE PHOSPHATE OF IRON.

Clear as spring water and tasteless; has the advantage over all ferruginous preparations of containing Iron and Phosphorus, which are the elements of the blood. It cures chlorosis, anemia, loss of the stomach, difficult digestion, dyspepsia, anorexia, general debility and poverty of the blood, and agrees especially with the most delicate stomachs.

LUNG DISEASES.

Grimault's Syrup of Hypophosphite of Lime.

It is the best and the most rational of all remedies against consumption. Under its influence the cough abates, the night sweats cease, and the patient rapidly recovers health. It gives the same results in cases of coughs, catarrhs, hoarse voices, and influenza. In comparing this syrup with the other sold under the same name, it will be easy to recognize the superiority of this preparation.

Therefore to avoid any substitution, please to require on the bottle the signature: Grimault & Co.

NERVOUS HEADACHE

GUARANA.

A single powder of this natural vegetable production is sufficient to cure instantly the most violent headache. It is the most valuable remedy against diarrhoea.

Digestive Powders, Pills & Elixir of PEPSEINE.

Of certain effect against nausea, pituita, heart-burn, gastritis, gastralgia, a child's diarrhoea, indigestion of the mucous coats of the stomach and bowels, vomiting during pregnancy, jaundice, etc.

NO MORE COPADAIOR CUBERS.

Grimault's Capsules and Liquid Extract of Matico Vegetalis.

Where all other Medicines have failed, these preparations will always effect a cure. These insure rapid and extraordinary cure of severe, recent and chronic cases of private disease. They are used in the Hospitals of Paris, by the celebrated Dr. Ricord, and are found greatly superior to all hitherto known mineral remedies and Copadaior Cubes. The injection is used in recent and chronic cases in the more chronic cases.

NO MORE DIFFICULT OR PAINFUL DIGESTION!

B. W. PEARSE, Deputy Chairman
MEMBERS OF THE BOARD.

To the Electors of Clinton and Lillooet District
GENTLEMEN,—You want a man to represent you in the Legislative Council. A good many of you have urged in to seek the representation of the District. I offer my services.

I am in favor of Confederation, because it is the policy of the Home Government, irrevocable, and it will end a system that means nothing but taxation.

The people who have voted pensions to public officers for impudent services rendered to their country, have exhibited some signs of common sense, justice and gratitude. Pensions to such public officers as would be evidence of extreme folly.

The chief duty of your representatives at the next meeting of the Legislative Council, will be to examine the contract we are about to make with Canada, and if there are in it any conditions detrimental to the interests of this colony, to exhibit their injustice and demand amendment.

I am no orator. The majority of those who try to be eloquent are merely unsensical; they forget that this is a practical age, and that a grain of common sense is better than a ton of chaff. "I HAD RATHER SPEAK FIVE words with MY UNDERSTANDING THAN TEN THOUSAND words in AN UNKNOWN TONGUE."

I value the friendship and goodwill that exist between myself and the majority of the men in the District; they will be pleased to hear that I shall not solicit one vote as a personal favor. Friendship and goodwill should not presume to stand between you and your duty. Elect the best man. If you elect me I promise I shall make gentlemen ashamed of having voted pensions to themselves for duties not discharged.

I have the honor to be a sincere ploughman, and your obedient servant,

GEORGE A. KELLY

Miscellaneous.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and its curative power, have made it a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effective remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as a remedy against subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this medicine for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorder of Croup, Laryngitis, and the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Sing and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is universally relieved and often wholly cured by it.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure.

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chills, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasma poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance, it never injures any patient. The number and importance of the cases where the disease is literally brought under control, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed. Unaccompanied persons, either resident in, or travelling through malarious localities, will be protected by taking the Ague Cure daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

ROBINSON'S
Celebrated Magic Soap

DIRECTIONS.
For doing a Large Family washing in Two Hours, of Five or Six Dozen Pieces.

1. Cut up a bar of the Soap, and put one-half of it into your boiler with sufficient water to cover the clothes to be washed, and let the soap dissolve; then let your clothes in, stirring them, and let them just come to a boil, then pour in cold water and let them boil for ten or twenty minutes, and then let them stand around in the tub occasionally to loosen the dirt. Such articles as collars, wristbands or any other article very dirty, should be rubbed through the hands a little while, so as to get the dirt before the soap is added.

2. While your clothes are soaking put the half of your soap into your boiler, with sufficient clean water to boil, and let it be boiling. After your clothes have soaked with the cut soap, and put your four, boiling water, and let them boil for 10 to 15 minutes, then rinse, and hang out to dry. If the above directions are followed, you will guarantee your clothes clean and white.

3. For your colored and washed clothes, use the same water you soaked and boiled your white clothes with, only heating it up again, and pour it over your colored and washed clothes, and let them soak the same as your white clothes, also rubbing them. The third, your hands while soaking, is very dirty. Then rise in clean water, wash your hands well, and you will thus accomplish a large washing in two hours.

By cutting up a bar of soap into two gallons water, and let it boil until thoroughly dissolved, and then hang out to dry, you will have two gallons of best TITUL SOAP as good as Common Soap for general house purposes.
